

Dashboard - Left Menu

If the Dashboard is the desk of your Convertri account, consider the left hand menu as the little filing cabinet near your leg where you keep all the important things. Let's dive in.

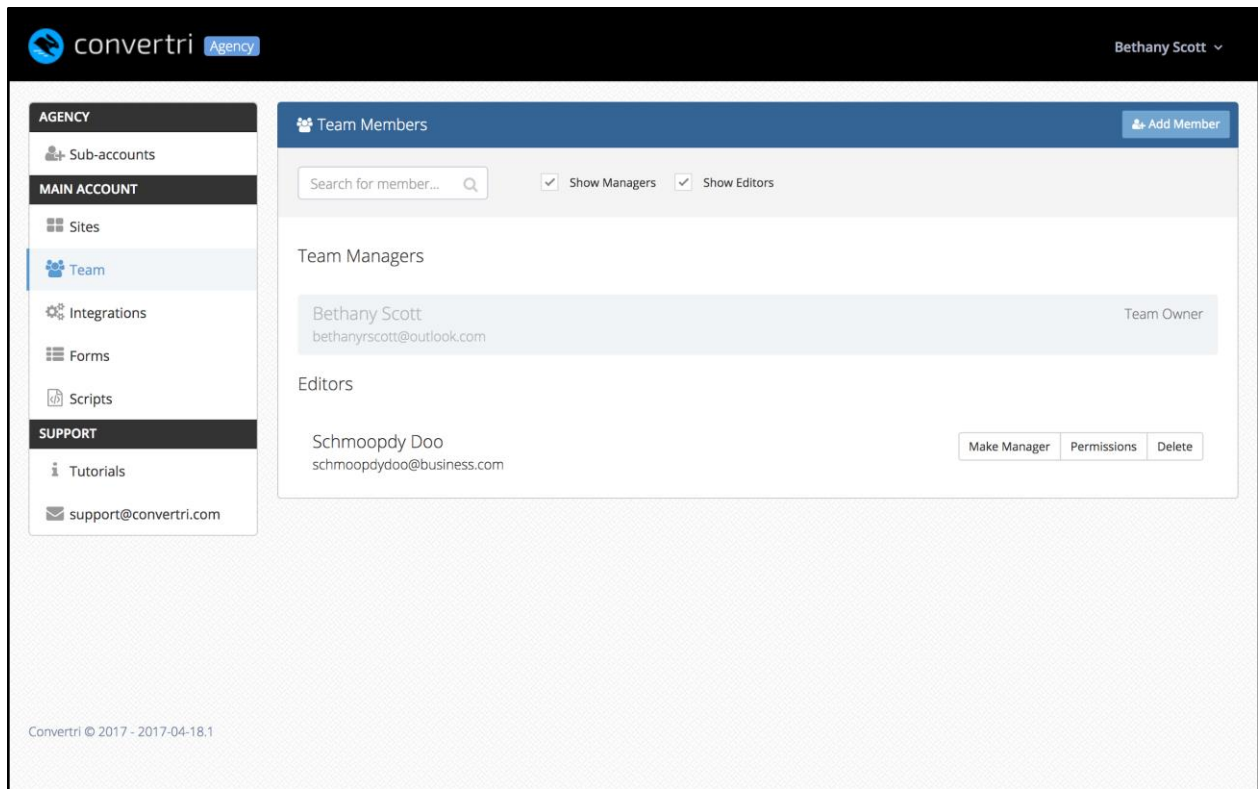

The Sites Tab - click on this and you'll see all your sites at a glance. A birds-eye view of your empire, my liege. From here you can edit and import funnels, edit funnel-wide scripts, add your Google Webmasters code and set a custom 404 error page.

The Team Tab

Here, you can add or remove people from a project, edit their permissions and sort your list of co-workers by managers and editors. Each member of your team can be added to as many individual sites as you wish.

The Integrations Tab

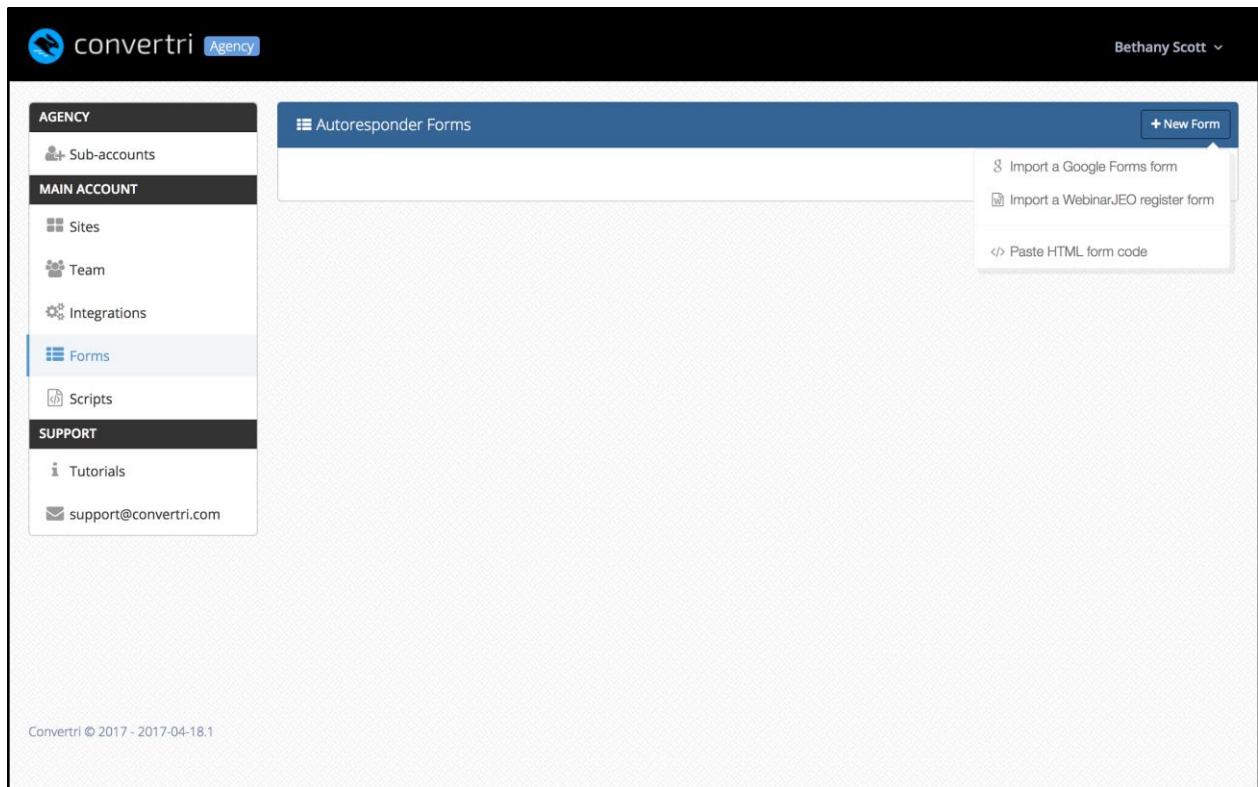

This is a handy place to manage all those apps that work with Convertri. At a glance, you can enter your Youzign, Google, Facebook and Shopify credentials to activate their elements in the Page

Builder.

The screenshot displays the Convertri Agency dashboard. At the top left is the Convertri logo with 'Agency' next to it. At the top right, the user's name 'Bethany Scott' is shown with a dropdown arrow. A left-hand navigation menu is organized into three sections: 'AGENCY' (Sub-accounts), 'MAIN ACCOUNT' (Sites, Team, Integrations, Forms, Scripts), and 'SUPPORT' (Tutorials, support@convertri.com). The 'Integrations' menu item is highlighted. The main content area features three configuration panels: 1. 'Google Analytics' with a 'Your Google account' section and a link to authorize or create an account. 2. 'Facebook Config' with a text prompt to enter a Facebook App ID for comments moderation, an input field, and a 'Save' button. 3. 'Shopify Config' with a text prompt to enter Shopify API credentials, and input fields for 'Store handle' and 'App ID'.

The Forms Tab

If you use Google Forms, MailChimp, Aweber or any other app which requires embedding forms on your site, this is where you can keep hold of them in one place. Simply click New Form, and choose to import from your provider or add your own HTML. You can then easily drop it into the Page Builder whenever you wish.

The Scripts Tab

Like the Forms tab, if you use scripts on your pages this is a handy dandy place to keep them safe. Simply copy and paste your scripts into the Body Scripts tab or Head Scripts tab to include them in all pages. If you're not sure whether you need the Head tab or Body tab, using the Body tab is safest - and keep in mind that in order to include scripts in an existing page, you need to republish that page after you've entered the script.

The screenshot shows the Convertri Agency dashboard. The top navigation bar includes the Convertri logo, the word "Agency", and the user name "Bethany Scott". A left-hand sidebar menu is organized into three sections: "AGENCY" (Sub-accounts), "MAIN ACCOUNT" (Sites, Team, Integrations, Forms, Scripts), and "SUPPORT" (Tutorials, support@convertri.com). The "Scripts" page is active, featuring a blue header and instructions: "Enter your permanent scripts below to include them in all pages. Keep in mind, the scripts are included when the page is published, so in order to include them in an existing page, you will have to republish it after configuring scripts." A light blue callout box states: "If you are unsure where you should paste your scripts, use Body scripts tab." Below this are two tabs: "Body scripts" (selected) and "Head scripts". A large text area contains the text "Scripts appended to the <head> tag of your page." and a "Save" button at the bottom left. The footer of the dashboard reads "Convertri © 2017 - 2017-04-18.1".

Tutorials and Support

Need a bit of help? We're always here. Click on Tutorials for text, video and PDF walkthroughs of everything you could possibly want to do with Convertri (ish), or just email support@convertri.com if you have a stickler of a doozy to figure out. You're never alone with us!